AB Systems goes all the way back to 1973 at ESS, where George Anderson was doing chassis design for amplifiers and Bob Bird was hired to fix the reliability issues of the ESS power amplifiers. That was accomplished with newer output transistors with better second-breakdown ratings. When I left and formed Threshold with Rene Besne, George

I have a Precedent 900A and a 600A. They both work ok. In a low power situation (say, 200 wpc max) I hear them sounding better than the Carver amp I was using. The band leader said "Your rig sounds better tonight" after I brought in a 900a that I borrowed. He didn't know or care what amp I had but he instantly heard the difference.
