A UPS, at its most basic, is a battery backup power system that supplies power long enough for equipment to properly shut down when utility power fails. It helps prevent loss of data and minimizes the stress a hard shutdown causes on your electronic equipment.

The backup battery in a UPS allows you to save/back up your data and shut down your sensitive electronic devices safely and/or avoid downtime altogether. For instance, the power capacity of the backup battery can buy you enough time to spin up power generators or supply power long enough until AC power is restored.

The APC BR1500G is an excellent battery backup with AVR and surge protection. It allows for easy cell replacement and the ability to add external backups. If you need a UPS and don't want to spend a lot, the APC UPS BE425M Battery Backup is for you.

While UPS power is great for avoiding a sudden shutdown, you should not expect it to power your equipment for long hours without additional electrical backup, such as a generator. The main purpose of a UPS is to give you time to switch to alternative power or properly shut down your machine. Benefits of an uninterruptible power supply.
