Ordered a pallet of 400w Canadian solar panels plus some spares. Ordered June 29th, delivered July 11th. Shipped to the northeast corner of the US via FedEx freight, no damage to any panels. Had order Confirmation and tracking info immediately. Called by current connected and FedEx freight...

Would love to see a 300Ah/16s server-rack style battery that can be mounted on its end and easily connected with a horizontal busbar (without blocking switches or screens). I was informed that my order had shipped about a week later, was provided with tracking info and waited.
