The FASTTRACK Precision Sharpening System is a unique solution that holds the blade to be sharpened stationary and its angle constant while a diamond stone is guided across the cutting edge (at a 90° angle to the tool's normal cutting direction) at either 25°, 27.5°, 30°; or 32.5°, depending on your application, making the bevel flat and ...

While careful freehand sharpening can produce excellent results, unpracticed techniques typically yield inconsistent results and tools that aren't as sharp as they could be. An attractive alternative to working freehand is using a honing guide, which can help you attain a wickedly sharp edge without hours and hours of practice.
