Pairing solar panels with a battery. A solar panel and a battery can both work without each other, but in reality it is wiser to have them both. A battery without a solar panel to power it will only be good for that one charge. However, if you attach it to a solar panel, the battery will still keep on charging during the daylight even if the ...

Studies by the University of Malta have shown that due to the lack of land availability, solar generating systems will be possible at sea. By taking advantage of an average of 300 days of sunshine per year installing solar panels in open water, in offshore floating PV farms, could be as cost-effective and reliable as those on land.

For an on-grid PV system with batteries using a hybrid inverter, we are also able to offer the option to install a Back-Up System. This system automatically detects an Enemalta power cut and switches over to back-up mode. This will supply emergency power to the critical loads, meaning you will never need to worry about a power cut again.
