

Solar system and beyond poster set

Check out these activities to explore the science and art of planets beyond our solar system! Our solar system is just one neighborhood in a bigger city, the Milky Way Galaxy. In the last few decades, we have learned that many of the stars in our galaxy have planets orbiting around them. We call these "exoplanets."

These posters show places in our solar system (and beyond) that likewise haven't been photographed on a human scale yet -- or in the case of the exoplanets might never be, at least not for a long time. It seemed a perfect way to ...
